BACH WTB invites community to free Disc Golf Warrior Challenge

BACH Public Affairs

FORT CAMPBELL, Ky. – Blanchfield Army Community Hospital’s Warrior Transition Battalion invites the community to participate in a Battalion-wide disc golf event July 15 from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the War Memorial Park in Oak Grove, Kentucky.

The WTB Adaptive Reconditioning Program recently added disc golf as part of its weekly activity schedule for Soldiers. The program includes various physical challenges and adaptive sports that wounded, ill and injured Soldiers participate in to support their physical and emotional wellbeing.

The free tournament will consist of one round 18-hole challenge and is open to all ages with first through third place trophies given to a variety of categories such as active duty, Veterans, ARP Soldiers, men’s open, ladies and youth.

“This disc golf tournament is a family-friendly event where the community can participate alongside of our WTB Soldiers and cadre,” said WTB adaptive sports site coordinator Robyn Womac.

The event will also feature music, food and fun for the entire family. If you don’t know how to play disc golf, local and national professional players will hold two, one-hour free clinics July 14 at 10 a.m. and 1 p.m. at the War Memorial Park Disc Golf Course. This will give you an opportunity to learn the flying disc game before the tournament July 15. To sign up for the clinic, register at www.arpwarriorchallengeclinic.eventbrite.com and to sign up for the tournament go to www.arpwarriorchallenge.eventbrite.com.
